Pugh's Tips & Clips

What should I do in the winter months to care for my landscaping!

Landscape and yardwork are usually the last thing on your mind in the dead of winter. But this is actually the ideal time to renovate the lawn and eliminate the brown spots and crab grass left over from last summer.

Crab grass - At this time of year your grass is full of millions of crab grass seeds waiting to sprout in the spring. Therefore, you want to be ready to spray with a pre-emergent about the last week of February, just before the temperature starts to warm up.

However, you don't want to apply pre-emergent any earlier than February, as it would kill new seeds that you have planted. Also, the chemicals are not as effective in the cold weather. Remember that you cannot apply pre-emergent yourself because it is a hazardous chemical which, by law, must be applied by licensed professionals. Now is the time to call Pugh's Earthworks for a proper analysis, winter care recommendations and preventive measures to protect your landscaping investment.
